Brief

Guangxi is home to many ethnic groups, with the cultures of the Zhuang, Yao, and Dong peoples blending and coexisting harmoniously. Folk customs such as antiphonal singing, bronze drum dances, and Dong grand songs exude enthusiasm; the Longji Rice Terraces, covered bridges, and Zhuang brocade and silver ornaments showcase unique aesthetics; and the local cuisine is distinctive, with intangible cultural heritage delicacies like snail rice noodles and five-colored glutinous rice offering a tangy, spicy, and flavorful taste. Traditional crafts such as brocade weaving and silver ornaments embody the wisdom of various ethnic groups, creating a rich borderland atmosphere and ethnic charm.

Why Go Here

③ Longji Rice Terraces 龙脊梯田

Longji Rice Terraces are a large-scale rice terrace complex in Guilin, inhabited by the Zhuang and Yao ethnic groups, and include ancient villages such as Ping'an Village and Jinkeng Village. Activities mainly involve hiking and photography, enjoying local farm cuisine, and staying in guesthouses. One-day or multi-day tours are available, and there are many viewing platforms suitable for watching the sunrise and sunset over the rice terraces.

Address

Ping'an Village, Heping Township, Longsheng Various Nationalities Autonomous County, Guilin City 桂林市龙胜各族自治县和平乡平安村

Recommended play time: 6 days

Opening Hours

Open all day

Transportation

- The terraced fields have three entrances: Ping'an Village, Longji Village, and Dazhai Village. Buses from Guilin city center reach each entrance, and visitors can choose whichever they prefer. If returning to the city, it is recommended to leave the scenic area before 3:00 PM.

Travel Season

- ◎ The scenery of the Longji Rice Terraces changes endlessly with the seasons. The best time to visit is after the 15th day of the fifth lunar month each year when the terraces are flooded and this lasts for half a month; another good time is for the half month after the Mid-Autumn Festival each year.

④ Detian Transnational Waterfall 德天跨国瀑布

Detian Transnational Waterfall, located in Chongzuo, Guangxi, on the China-Vietnam border, is Asia's premier and the world's second-largest transnational waterfall. It was a filming location for the popular TV drama "The Journey of Flower." Originating from the Guichun River, the waterfall is adjacent to Ban Gioc Waterfall in Vietnam. Visitors can enjoy views from boardwalks and take bamboo rafts. The scenic area also includes a boundary marker and Detian Temple.

Address

Detian Village, Shulong Town, Daxin County, Chongzuo City, Guangxi Zhuang Autonomous Region 广西壮族自治区崇左市大新县硕龙镇德天村

Recommended play time: 5 hours

Opening Hours

Open year-round from 08:00 to 22:00

Transportation

- Take the direct tourist bus from Fengling Bus Station to Detian Transnational Waterfall.

Travel Season

⊙ The best time to visit Detian Waterfall is from April to November. Although the water volume is lower in other months, it does not affect the enjoyment. The scenery of the waterfall varies in the morning, noon, and evening: at noon, the water is powerful and the sound of the waterfall is deafening; at dusk, the silver curtain of water reflects the sunset, creating a serene and distant atmosphere; if you are lucky, you may encounter the spectacular sight of a rainbow appearing at the same time as the silver waterfall in the early morning.

⑤ Weizhou Island

涠洲岛

Weizhou Island is a large extinct volcanic island in the southern part of Beihai, a popular destination for graduation trips. It boasts natural landscapes such as Crocodile Mountain volcanic rocks and unique beaches, as well as cultural sites like a Catholic church and Sanpo Temple. Visitors can enjoy sunrises and sunsets, water sports, and cycling around the island. It's a good choice for a two-day trip, and the seafood is delicious. Advance booking is recommended during peak season.
